You are very welcome if you have joined us since David spoke & led, with Anna, our music of preparation.

Our homes are the places & this is the time. Here & now God waits to break into our experience to change our minds, to change our lives. These are the places, as are all places; this is the time as are all times. Here & now, apart in our homes, but together on screen, let us worship God.

We share together in singing our faith, as we join with a past congregational recording, words which also serve as our opening prayer: Hymn 372 (Stephen)
